Historic North Atlantic Security Treaty Signed by Western Nations Which Pledges All-for-one Defence

WASHINGTON—United States, Britain, France, Canada and eight non-Communist western powers joined today in signing their historic North Atlantic Security Treaty. This is next to the last step in pledging one-for-all and all-for-one defence against any attacker—a warning clearly intended for Communist Russia which has denounced the pact as "aggressive."

If and when the treaty is ratified it will establish America's defensive frontiers in the heart of Europe for at least 20 years. The signing ceremony took place at noon (PST) in the government's departmental auditorium, a few blocks from the White House.

It opened a new and perhaps more critical era in the cold war, for the west already is wondering what Russia's counter moves may be. State Secretary Dean Acheson of United States drew on the Bible for the language of the warning he said the pact carries to aggressors.

He said: "For those who set their feet upon the path of aggression, it is a warning that if it must needs be that offences come, then we unto them by whom the offence cometh."

President Truman, rejecting Russia's charge that the Atlantic treaty is "aggressive," hailed the historic treaty as "a shield against aggression and the fear of aggression." He asserted the people of the west are determined that "the sickening blow of unprovoked aggression" shall not fall on the world again.

LUMBER UNIONS AFTER HIGHER WAGES

VANCOUVER—Rival unions in British Columbia's lumber industry today announced they will seek separate wage and hour demands for their total of 40,000 workers.

International Woodworkers of America (CIO-CCL) will seek a 15-cent hourly wage boost. Its rebel offshoot, the Woodworkers Industrial Union of Canada, wants 20 cents an hour boost. Both will fight for a 50-cent reduction daily in the $2 board rates.

The WIU said it will strive for elimination of unnecessary overtime and both unions agreed to enforce rigidly the 40-hour week. WIU has yet to get the Labor Relations Board certification.

CANADA, U.S. EXCHANGE OFFICERS

WASHINGTON—The armed forces of Canada and United States are exchanging officers to work on mutual problems of the two countries, the national military establishment said today.

The establishment said "selected individual officers of the army, navy and air force are presently in Canada for the purpose of increasing their familiarity with defence establishments and arrangements in that country pursuant to the joint United States-Canada mutual defence agreement."

Canada and United States set up a joint defence board in 1940 and have carried on a co-operative agreement since. The agreement is directed against attack from the north over the polar area or across the north Atlantic or Pacific by Russia.

CONTROVERSIAL ITEMS FACE UN MEET

NEW YORK—The carry-over session of the United Nations General Assembly, which opens tomorrow, is shaping up as a full-fledged meeting of the 58-country forum. Originally scheduled to deal only with items left unfinished at the recent Paris assembly, it now promises to have on the agenda several new and controversial items.

In recent weeks these are the developments: 1. Bolivia requested the assembly to deal with the case of the imprisoned Hungarian Catholic primate, Josef Cardinal Mindszenty; 2. Australia said she would seek a full airing of the case of 15 Bulgarian Protestant clergymen imprisoned by that Communist government; 3. India and Australia demanded that the Indonesian case now before the 11-country Security Council, also be put on the assembly agenda.

It is also believed possible delegates might comment on two other vital international developments—the North Atlantic Treaty and the Berlin crisis.

SEEK WHEAT DISEASE CAUSE UP NORTH

MONTREAL—After a flight over the North Pole, three McGill University professors returned here during the week-end with data that may throw light on the origin of some plant diseases plaguing Western Canada's wheat fields.

The scientists, headed by Dr. Nicholas Polunin, British-born botanist, set out 17 days ago to capture spores and pollen of grains in the frigid polar air. Object: To see what forms of life are floating in the air at the top of the world and find out where they come from.

CHURCHILL BLAMES IRON CURTAIN

NEW YORK—Winston Churchill offered the right hand of friendship to the Russian people Saturday but acknowledged it was a futile gesture because "you can't get near them."

Sailing for home aboard the Queen Mary, he said it "would make a great deal of difference if the Russians opened their borders in the same way as other countries."

Preparing for Spring Festival

A national capital parks employee in Washington, D.C., is shown as he sprayed hormone solution on the pink-and-white cherry blossoms at the tidal basin. The solution prevents the petals from falling for about five days, and they were out in all their glory for the annual festival held in the U.S. capital over the week-end.

Edmonton Takes Western Puck Crown Outclassing Melville Millionaires

EDMONTON 9, MELVILLE 6

SENIOR B hockey in the Okanagan came to an end with a wallop Saturday night as the Edmonton Waterloo Mercurys fought back from a 4-0 deficit to hand the Melville Millionaires a 9-6 beating and win the Western Canada intermediate (senior B) hockey title.

After dropping the first game to Melville in overtime, the classy Alberta-B.C. champs added the Western crown to their laurels by chalking up four straight decisive triumphs and take the best of seven final by four games to one.

Scenes of wild jubilation by the blue-clad Edmontonians were touched off by the final bell in the game here Saturday night heralding the return of the Edmonton Journal Trophy to Alberta after a one year stay in B.C. The prized cup was presented to Captain Marsh Darling of the Mercurys by Mayor W. B. Hughes-Games of Kelowna.

Prior to the presentation, Mayor Hughes-Games paid tribute to the sportsmanship and fighting spirit of both the winners and the losers for giving hockey fans in the Okanagan a thrilling first-class series.

The Saskatchewan team, disheartened at their inability to hold the high-flying Mercurys in check, joined in the festivities later when both teams were guests at the Elks' Home.

Will Represent Canada
The Mercurys had more than the Western title to fight for. According to manager Joe Hanley, the Merks now are in line to represent Canada in the world amateur hockey championships in New York State next winter.

Sometime ago, Hanley said, the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association indicated the Western Canadian intermediate hockey titlist would carry the Canadian colors shouldered dismally this year by the weak Sudbury Wolves.

With their backs to the wall and facing elimination from the title hunt, manager-coach Wally Hofstrand regrouped his forces and put in spare goalie R. Anweiler to handle the fifth game, in place of Fred Smith. The Millionaires

Three Local Unions Want Wage Boosts

City Council in Midst of Negotiating New Wage and Working Agreements

Kelowna City Council is in the midst of negotiating new wage and working agreements with representatives of three unions, and it all the wage demands are met, it will cost the taxpayers roughly $10,000.

Already one union has requested that its new working agreement go before a board of arbitration in order to arrive at a settlement.

The city's cost-of-living bonus scheme, adopted last year by civic employees' union, has been scrapped, it was reliably reported. Under the proposal, the cost-of-living bonus was based on the cost-of-living index.

At 5 o'clock this afternoon, council was scheduled to meet to consider the proposal of the local fire brigade union, and tomorrow City Fathers will confer with a spokesman for the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, although a satisfactory settlement has almost been reached. It is understood the civic employees' union, after meeting council last week, has requested that negotiations be referred to a conciliation officer.

Youths Get Heavy Fines For Stealing Gasoline

HEAVY fines were imposed in district police court Saturday on three local youths for their part in breaking and entering the Dillon & Son equipment shed in Ellison, at the gravel pit on Okanagan Highway, and theft of gasoline. A 17-year-old juvenile, also implicated, will be dealt with this week.

MOVE MADE TO ORGANIZE LOCAL YMCA

Possibility of starting a Y.M.C.A. in Kelowna was discussed at a recent meeting held at Herbert's Business College.

Les Vipond, National Boys' Work Secretary of the Canadian Y.M.C.A. with head office in Toronto, addressed the meeting. This meeting included a few local business men and several persons who had previously written the Toronto office over the past few years, and expressed an interest in organizing a "Y" in Kelowna.

The Young Men's Christian Association, Mr. Vipond pointed out, is especially concerned with the development of Christian personality and the building of democratic citizenship. The association achieves these objectives best in its program with young people in groups, clubs, and recreational activities where an opportunity for practice in democratic processes is possible. A Y.M.C.A. in Canada, Mr. Vipond pointed out, is in smaller communities than Kelowna.

In the discussion that followed, it was agreed that a "Y" could well serve many of the needs of the young people of Kelowna, that it would not conflict with other groups at work with young people and that steps should be taken immediately to work toward the formation of a local organization. Accordingly an interim committee under the chairmanship of Fred Russell, with Gordon D. Herbert, as secretary was set up to work toward that end.

It was also agreed that one of the early steps should be a thorough survey of the recreational needs and facilities of the district so that the role of the Y.M.C.A. in Kelowna could best be determined. Mr. Vipond stated that a member of the National Y.M.C.A. staff would be available for that purpose and would make a survey upon request from Kelowna at no charge to the city. A committee is to be formed to go more thoroughly into the matter.

Those attending the meeting were John Jardine, Al Brent, J. W. Hughes, Thomas Hill, E. F. Campbell, R. D. Horton, A. Lloyd-Jones, R. Kendall, G. D. Herbert, W. A. Holton, F. L. Russell, V. Koenig, H. A. Truswell, Herb Caipozi, Ben Grant, Fred Thompson, J. B. McClelland.

Many Evacuees Find Themselves Better Off in Interior than at Coast... Few Returning to Coast Following Removal of Restrictions Recalls Situation in Okanagan after Pearl Harbor — Feeling Ran High Over Japanese Coming Here and Buying Property

Physical Action Threatened

JAPANESE-Canadians were able to return to the Pacific Coast this week. But few are going. The end of the wartime federal legislation which ordered the Japanese out of the coastal area, now permits approximately 23,000 Japanese-Canadians to return. But after seven years exile, the Japanese, who have built new lives for themselves and their families in other parts of the country, are not planning a mass return.

Many of the evacuees settled in the Okanagan Valley, and a survey by The Courier revealed that few, if any, are moving back to the coast. Many of them find themselves better off in the interior than they were when engaged in fishing or agricultural production at the coast.

The forced evacuation of 1942 beyond coastal defences, crippled many Japanese financially, as did subsequent government sales of their coast properties. Few have the capital to re-establish businesses, buy fishing boats or farms, or even finance the move to the coast.

The Japanese, in most cases, have been absorbed into the economy and social life of Eastern Canada. Interior British Columbia and the prairies. In many ways, they lead happier lives than they did on the coast where they were a sore problem before the war and in the early war years.

Many Japanese went to Greenwood, B.C., a ghost town near the U.S. border. They saved the town, now a prosperous centre of 1,000 population. And they're staying. Another major concentration is at Grand Forks, 15 miles east of Greenwood. Few plan to leave.

The removal of the restrictions on the Japanese recalls the situation which existed in the Okanagan in the months after Pearl Harbor. No issue probably has ever caused so much hard feeling as did the Japanese question during 1942 and 1943.

Sought Property
Immediately following Pearl Harbor Japanese from the coast began to drift into the Okanagan seeking property. The movement was accelerated when the defence zone of 100 miles from the coast was established and all Japanese were ordered evacuated from that area. This left them free to settle in the Okanagan, and they came here in rapidly increasing numbers.

It should be emphasized that at no time during the controversy was there any animosity to those Japanese who had been resident in the Valley—at least in the Kelowna area—prior to Pearl Harbor.

But a very large section of the people feared that should the influx of the Japanese population of the Okanagan would be increased alarmingly. So strongly did the feeling run that at one time physical action was threatened by the more hot-headed element.

"NEWFOUNDLAND DAY" OBSERVED IN CLASS ROOMS

The staff of the Kelowna High School were excited at the preview of new books received by the school and arranged by the librarian, Miss B. Crowe, last Thursday.

During the meeting, Miss N. Gale, on behalf of the senior matriculation class, presented the library with a copy of "Queen of Tomorrow" which was received by Division 1 from Lincoln House, Brigg High School, Lincolnshire, England.

"Queen of Tomorrow," a beautifully illustrated and authentic study of H.R.H. Princess Elizabeth, was sent by the students of the English school in appreciation of several parcels sent to them by the local matriculation class.

Special programs were held by all classes on Friday to commemorate Newfoundland Day. The importance of this history-making event was stressed and much interest in the newest province was displayed by the students.

Many of the "classes" heard the program broadcast by the CBC during which special citizenship papers were conferred upon the people of Newfoundland and the Right Hon. Louis St. Laurent, inscribed the first line of the Newfoundland coat-of-arms on the archway of the Peace Tower in Ottawa.

It was interesting to note that space for this coat-of-arms was reserved when the new Parliament Buildings were built after the first world war.

Hughes-Games, patron of the drive, emphasized the importance of the campaign and stressed the three purposes for which money will be used. The Great Alliance Emerges

The North Atlantic Treaty, signed in Washington today, proves to be as strong and definite a commitment as any could reasonably expect it to be. Its signatories give genuine pledges whose meaning cannot be mistaken. They openly and candidly proclaim their intention to act as one in defence. The practical utility of the pact will depend, of course, not on any form of words, but on actions taken to implement it.

Of its fourteen articles, numbers five, six and nine are the vital ones. Article five says that an attack on one signer shall be considered an attack on all. Each will "forthwith" assist the victim by "such actions as it deems necessary, including the use of military force." The next article defines "attack". It is to include attack not only of the home territory of the signers, but on their occupation forces, their ships and their planes, and certain areas they control outside their mainlands. Article nine, the heart of the matter, sets up a council which will work out ways of making the pact effective.

It is only an academic question whether the words "as it deems necessary" weaken the document. As is well known, the phrase is in the treaty to satisfy the objections of the United States Senate to any "automatic" commitment, that would ignore the right of Congress to declare war. But in every free country the national legislature has, in effect, if not by the terms of the written constitution, the power either to support military action or prevent it by withholding funds. Thus the apparently qualifying words might well have been taken for granted; but in any case they have to be read along with the outright, unhedged declaration that an attack on one is an attack on all. This is a clear-cut surrender of the right to be neutral. By this pact, the democracies are as firmly committed as they can be.

It is, of course, a pact for defence. It is not an agreement to initiate a war. The leadership of the United States in the alliance is recognized in the express provision that the original treaty text shall be deposited at Washington; and no one in his right mind regards the United States as a militaristic country eager for conflict. But our neighbors have twice been involved, much against the grain, in World Wars they had no hand in starting. It is equally true, however, they had no hand in trying to prevent these conflicts. They have learned from history, and they are determined to join in preventing a third outbreak of modern man's worst plague. That is the root of the American willingness to abandon isolationism once and for all.

There are sincere people, anxious for peace and believing in the United Nations, who will see in the Atlantic pact abandonment of the hopes and plans of 1945. True, the makers of the UN did not expect to see, three years later, the free world arming itself for concerted resistance to an aggressive totalitarian state. They counted on unanimity among the great powers about the peace settlement and events have shown that this unanimity does not, and never did, exist. The Soviet Union displaying no interest in a peace settlement anywhere, has seized the opportunity of post-war confusion to extend its power over most of Eastern Europe, using the familiar technique of violent action by Communist minorities. Western nations are threatened by the same fate, as Togliatti in Italy and Thorez in France have so blatantly announced. In these circumstances, the original UN purpose becomes an interrupted dream. Waking up to realities, the Western nations have no recourse but to defend themselves. Singly they might not be able to do so. Collectively, they cannot fail.

The pact itself, being only a document, obviously does not provide the West with the defence it needs. The Powers concerned will still face the job of organizing and co-ordinating the necessary armed forces. They will also face the question whether forcible Communist seizure of power in a state, say in France or Italy, should be regarded as an "armed attack" within the meaning of the treaty. That key issue remains for future decision. In the meantime, the pact expresses intentions which should command the support of every person in Canada and the United States.

Not Comforts But Stamina

Amid the welter of views and opinions on what to do with delinquent youth, a welcome note of common sense was sounded recently by Rabbi Reuben Slonim of Toronto. Speaking at a meeting recently he said that the responsibility for youth's misdemeanors had been laid at the door of the home, the school and the church. "I do not believe that any single institution is to blame," he added. "We are all equally to blame. We have not co-operated enough."

This is an important point. In far too many homes there is a tendency to unload parental responsibilities on the schools and the church, without recognizing that they have their particular functions, which mesh with those of the home, but do not replace them. A proper church relationship is made up of a number of families mutually devoted to a certain way of life. It cannot be something apart from the home and remain effective. Teachers, no matter how skilled and understanding, cannot substitute for the intimate bond which should exist between parent and child. The failure of one to carry out the functions of the other is not surprising. But under the circumstances the apportionment of blame is futile.

True as this is, the rabbi was even more cogent in another passage. Suggesting that children are being reared with the idea that they are going to receive advantages denied their parents, he took issue with the theory.

"This may be an admirable trait on the face of it," he said, "but its general result is to pamper the child. It makes him feel that life must beat a path to his door; if it does not the fault is not his. . . . We are failing our children by omitting the teaching that life has its rigors as well as its relaxations. . . . The emphasis today should be on providing them, not with comfort, but with stamina."

There is a widespread theory that children should be sheltered from the unpleasant experiences of life as long as possible. This is a gravely mistaken form of parental protection, based on the silly sentiment that childhood and youth should be "happy". Obviously, children should be warned that certain courses of conduct, such as playing with fire, can have painful consequences. They seldom believe it, however, until they have experienced a burn.

In the same way, life has many denials for every person. To allow a child to grow to maturity without a positive knowledge that he cannot have everything he wants is not only to set the stage for personal disaster, it is also a social menace. Misled by psychological "experts" who are themselves emotionally adolescent, parents have sought to shield their children from reality. They have given them whatever they wanted, and allowed free rein to their whims of behavior.

When young people get out on their own, and find that life is not as they thought; that they are no longer the centre of interest, there is an inevitable reaction. With some, it is an urge to take what they want. With others, more timid or conventional, it develops into an internal gnawing which may result in mental illness, nervous breakdowns, or forms of escape from life. For either of these, what advantage was their early protection from reality?

Toughness of character is not developed in a hothouse. Stamina is the product of test and endurance. Failure is not a disaster, but a challenge. "Life has its rigors as well as its relaxations". Our young people should be allowed to face trial and disappointment, not without the assurance of their parents' sympathy and experience behind them, of course, but as part of their training. The youth problem would then not be so large.

Add pet hates: Hockey broadcasters, such as Warner, of Vernon, who refuses to tell the score and who scores the goal. They invariably shout "He Scores"! The only time one can be sure of getting the score is at the end of the period. They seldom give the score at the commencement of a period. For the casual listener and the late-tuner-in, it's enough to make one tear his hair!

Canada Cannot Hope to be Neutral In Any Future Struggle Involving World Powers, Says Noted Speaker

CANADA cannot hope to be neutral in any future struggle involving the great powers. "Russia is realistic enough not to start something unless the Soviet is sure of winning."

"What promises to be an effective coalition for peace is at last in prospect—but it is going to be costly for Canada."

"It is easy to beat our chests and prepare ourselves while Czech coups and Berlin blockades are happening."

"While still keeping before us the vision of San Francisco, we have to make a detour from the broad highway of universal collective security down the side-road of regional collective security."

This was the way Eric W. Morse summarized his address to the Kelowna Canadian Club last Thursday evening. A noted speaker in the fields of modern history, political science and international relations, Mr. Morse displayed a thorough mastery of the Canadian scene in relation to the North Atlantic Pact.

His address was particularly timely, in view of the fact that the North Atlantic Pact was signed in Washington today. Mr. Morse is a secretary of the Canadian delegation to the United Nations. A squadron leader in the air force during the last war, he is now national director of the Association of Canadian Clubs.

Mr. Morse explained that the chief function of Canadian Clubs is to provide a platform for issues that are of practical value for Canadians. There is no greater problem than the North Atlantic Pact, he said.

"It is the most important document since the San Francisco conference when a move was made to achieve world peace. All parties in the Canadian Parliament agreed and approved the pact in principle of its charter. What are our interests as Canadians? What is the current problem of world peace? Self-interest is the basis of our foreign policy. The three watchwords are security, prosperity and unity. Three other factors are: (a) we are very vulnerable from an economic standpoint, i.e., we are able to absorb only two-thirds of our production. Our population is very small in proportion to our production. We must sell our surplus in world markets. If we are to enjoy a good standard of living, we have to buy in the world, sell in the world, and invest in the world; therefore, we need a peaceful, peaceful and prosperous world. We need peace."

The second of the other factors is: (b) we are in a vulnerable geographical position. We used to think we lived in a fire-proof house far from inflammable materials, but our markets are now dried up oceans can be crossed so easily. The third factor: (c) many of us have our roots in the old country and we would not willingly be uprooted and see her go down. Others have their backgrounds in the United States. These interests are why twice in the past forty years we have been drawn into a world struggle, and why it is fantastic to speak of the possibility of our being neutral in any large-scale war in the future. Our interests add up to this: there is no country in the world more to lose than Canada. Specifically, we must avoid war (security), help build a thriving, well-ordered world (prosperity), and reject policies that seriously divide our nation (unity).

"The kind of security that we have sought in Canada is not the security of huge armies or lowering armaments; we have neither the man-power nor resources to defend our vast country alone. Nor have we sought security by old-fashioned military alliances. Canadians do not like the idea of such military alliances, and even if we did, our nearness to the U.S.A. would hinder us in choosing our allies. The kind of security we have tried to gain is 'Collective Security.' For thirty years we have been frustrated in this quest."

"American foreign policy has displayed a slow process of disillusionment as it grew to maturity. She has had to face things unprepared. Britain has moved out and U.S.A. has moved in. Americans have a sense of their mission and have also a sense of pride and ambition. So far as their trade is concerned, they need to export only 10 percent of their production, though this figure is only marginal. U.S.A. wants a peaceful, well-ordered world in which to buy, sell and invest, but there is still a good deal of isolationism present. Also, no democracy can commit itself to a specific course of action. Congress alone can declare war."

Use Force
U.S.A. policy is slowly becoming clarified as far as Russia is concerned. The Truman Doctrine is to isolate and contain Russia in Europe. The Marshall Plan seeks to weaken Western Communist parties, and the North Atlantic Pact aims at a loose, regional coalition within United Nations—this time not waiting for a Lustrina or a Pearl Harbor. Russia can be deterred by force alone, and the solution would seem to spell out the Atlantic Pact. But more than that, we must get out from under the commun-from their long-range strategy of working for a communist-dominated world.

"Under the circumstances, on the purely negative or military side, our only course is to build up and maintain sufficient military force to deter Russia from starting something, and this time to state our intentions clearly and in advance."

The speaker felt that the North Atlantic Pact was the most important development since San Francisco, not only for Canada but for the world. There cannot be too thorough a public thrashing-out of this issue, particularly between now and its ratification by parliament.

What's happening out in Alberta these days? Plenty! New oil is being sought and found. Money's flowing faster. There's lots of activity, lots of opportunity. And as a result all Canadians are better off.

For instance, oil from Alberta's new wells is expected to save 68 million U.S. dollars this year! That's one of the big reasons for Canada's better trade position, one of the reasons we are able to buy more U.S. goods.

The new discoveries have meant lower cost operation in Alberta and Saskatchewan for farmer and industrialist, and this must ultimately benefit all of Canada.

Then, too, it takes a lot of money to find oil and lots more to develop a field once it's found. Two million dollars a week is being poured into oil exploration and development in Alberta today. That spending creates new markets for the things the rest of Canada has to sell.

And finally let's recall that in the war years—and after—we were dependent on foreign oil for roughly 90 per cent of our supplies. This year prairie production should exceed prairie demand. With continued effort and reasonable success it is not too much to hope the men who search for oil will make Canada self-sufficient in petroleum in years to come.

Everywhere in Alberta you hear about new oil discoveries—all the more because they followed the long years when nature baffled the oil seekers. Years when men drilled holes two miles deep and found only water. Years of million-dollar disappointments.

In 1947 the tide turned. First it was the Leduc field . . . then the Woodbend field . . . next Redwater . . . now, still untested by time, other discoveries give new promise and the hope of still greater benefits for all Canadians.

IMPERIAL OIL LIMITED

If you're interested in facts . . .

Consumption of oil in Canada is the second highest in the world on a per capita basis. United States alone is higher.
Canadians are using twice as much oil as in 1939 and more than three times as much as in 1932.
At the beginning of 1949 Canada was importing 84 per cent of her oil.
During 1948 Imperial Oil drilled a total of 138 wells in its search for oil and in developing the new fields of Alberta.
The oil industry is spending more than $100 million in exploration and development in Alberta this year.

Bringing you oil is a big job—and a costly one

LITTLE DOGS SCARE NATIVE

BULAWAYO, South Rhodesia—(CP)—A family in a Bulawayo railway camp was interrupted at dinner by a native who vaulted the high fence from an unoccupied house next door, dashed through the dining-room in a state of terror, and locked himself in an inside room.

The family surrounded the house and called police but before they arrived the man opened the window and leaped out.

The police investigated the adjoining house, the occupants of which were away. They found two tiny Pekinese.

Need For Top Quality Fruit Urged By McNair

1949 Crop Prospects Are Outlined to Vernon Fruit Union Growers

"With export markets disappearing, with the United States not looking towards our exports with any great favor, and with the prospect of a large crop for the Valley this year, our sales will require fruit to be of really good condition over the longest possible period."

Stressing that the need for top quality was as urgent now as before, David McNair, who resigns from the post of B.C. Tree Fruits Ltd. sales manager in June, reviewed the past year's sales for the 37 growers attending the annual meeting of the Vernon Fruit Union last week.

Mr. McNair asked the growers to bear in mind that the marketing of the 1948 crop was conducted under unusual conditions for B.C. in that the regulations for conservation of American dollars throughout the entire season left the entire Canadian outlet available to producers.

It had a very important bearing on the disposition of all crops up to apples.

"It was an awkward season as a whole, as the weather upset every calculation."

Turning to the sales problems for each commodity, Mr. McNair said that with cherries, great difficulty was had, even getting two carloads of number one grade. They were largely marketed number three. Marketing of apricots was comparatively easy as the demand in Canada far exceeds the supply.

Peach Rot Bad

"Peaches, for the first year, were afflicted with brown rot or peach rot." This disease has been quite prevalent in Ontario. Rochester were worst hit of all with the three V's and Elbertas damaged to a much lesser degree. "The consumer was very dissatisfied—there were a lot of claims and dissatisfaction."

There was a reasonably normal crop of prunes and here Mr. McNair answered protests that no number ones were packed. No sooner was harvesting under way, he declared, than officials noticed an unusual condition of the prunes to shrivel at the stem end. The prunes had to be harvested as quickly as possible and placed on the market. They were graded number two.

"Many growers felt this nullified their efforts to produce number one grade prunes. But by the turn of events, growers are ahead many dollars through this product being marketed as number two."

Up Against Problem

"The importance of producing top grade is just as important in the future as has been recommended in the past. This season we will be up against importations and seasonal duty."

Pear production was about half a million boxes with the Canadian market sufficient to take care of the entire crop.

"Everybody was way off centre" in predictions concerning the apple crop. Production here was 6,250,000 boxes, with American production 92,000,000 bushels which was lower than the estimate. This caused a "fairly strong" American market.

At the present time, about 350,000 boxes of B.C. production are not shipped, although 300,000 boxes of these have been sold. The remainder are 25,000 Winesaps and the same number of boxes of Newtowns unsold. No difficulty is anticipated for sale of the Winesaps but Newtowns are not going as rapidly as officials would like.

Small Sizes

The small sizes were a real deterrent on this year's market—no one was interested in apples running 180's and smaller. South Africa was the only country that wanted them and it was "not easy" to develop a sales program for small sizes in Canada and the United States.

Distribution saw 248,000 boxes go to Brazil, 26,000 to Malaya, 52,000 to the Hawaiian Islands, 42,000 to South Africa and 58,000 to Hong Kong. These were the only available export markets due to exchange restrictions in other countries.

Barter "Complicated"

Export to Brazil was arranged through a barter deal. Said Mr. McNair: "We have had many suggestions concerning barter—it is very difficult and even if possible extremely complicated." South Africa has now applied exchange regulations and an import permit is needed for apples. The speaker indicated this left little chance for further export there.

"The North American continent is tied up export-wise entirely due to exchange restrictions. When these will be altered or rectified—one man's guess is as good as another's."

The United States market absorbed some 1,900,000 boxes of apples. (This market is rather choosy as to varieties, grades and sizes and thus is nowhere near as good an outlet as the United Kingdom. Some 3,800,000 boxes were sold in Canada.)

Highest Amount of Claims
Regarding claims, the figure of $85,000 is the highest allowances made in any of the B.C. Tree Fruit operations. "I imagine that $85,000 in allowances would strike you as a pretty large item. It almost seems as though we are moving in reverse gear regarding quality, but that is not altogether the case."

Breakdown of the claims was: apples, $22,000; pears, $3,800; cherries, $14,000, due to unsatisfactory arrival of split grade; peaches, $22,300, due to brown rot, for which no one can be blamed. The apple breakdown was: McIntosh, $7,000; Johnathans, $10,000; Delicious, $1,500; others, $2,800.

Allowances for vegetables totaled $21,000, with $15,000 of this from tomatoes.

Johnathans, which made up a large part of fruit allowances, on the whole were handled better than heretofore but far more water core was prevalent this year at time of harvesting than was noticed in any previous year. The allowances on Johnathans nowhere represent the loss on this variety in the United States, and last year quality of fruit also suffered. Mr. McNair declared this was destroying confidence the Americans had in the produce the Americans had in the produce.

On McIntosh, or around 250,000 boxes, there was trouble with no more than eight to 10 cars. Mr. McNair concluded.

REQUEST CITY TO UNDERWRITE BAND UNIFORMS

R. P. Walrod Reveals Plans to Keep Senior Band Members Together

POOL RECEIPTS

Services of Grown-ups Necessary Until Younger Members Competent

Request that the City of Kelowna underwrite the purchase of uniforms for the Kelowna Junior Band, Association which will cost in the neighborhood of $1,500 was made by R. P. Walrod to City Council, Monday night.

Mr. Walrod pointed out it was necessary to obtain the services of several grown-ups when the band was first organized, in order that the younger musicians could be brought along. He said the time is now arriving whereby a senior band could also be formed, and it is planned to change the constitution to the Kelowna Junior and Civic Band. The senior band would be available for any civic function, he said, but uniforms are necessary for marching purposes. If the city agreed to underwrite the purchase of uniforms, this money would be repaid at a later date, Mr. Walrod said.

The former alderman traced the growth of the junior band since the Parent-Teachers' Association revived interest in the organization.

Good Instructor

"This year we were successful in getting a competent instructor, and by taking in senior members, were able to get the calibre of boys who would take an interest in the band," he continued. "Through the more experienced players, the younger members have been brought along, but the time has now arrived where we should make provision to keep the senior members who are replaced by the youthful musicians."

Mr. Walrod pointed out many other cities and towns support a civic band financially. Instruments will not be supplied senior members. Receipts from the junior and civic band would be placed in one pool, he stated.

Queried as to how long the uniforms would last, Mr. Walrod thought they would be good for three or four years. They would also be of such a gaudy color that they could not be used for any other purpose except for official appearances.

Mayor W. B. Hughes-Games stated the council appreciates the good work the band has done, and that the matter would be given consideration.

MOVIE QUICKIES

"Linda Be Good," bright new comedy with a burlesque background, opens Monday at the Empress Theatre, with Elyse Knox, John Hubbard and Marie Wilson in the starring roles.

The film, a Cameo production by Eagle Lion Films, features musical specialty numbers by Sir Lancelot, vaudeville performer whose famous burly, girly act has been entertaining Broadway for years. Frank McDonald directed and Matty Kemp produced.

And, on the same program is a picture based on actual escapades of one of California's most colorful highwaymen, Universal International's "Black Bart". Yvonne DeCarlo plays the beautiful Lola Monter, international dancing favorite of the last century, who meets with the romance with Black Bart, the gentleman bandit, portrayed by Dan Duryea. Jeffrey Lynn co-stars with Miss DeCarlo and Duryea in the technicolor action drama.

Percy Kilbride heads the brilliant supporting cast of the film which was directed by George Sherman and produced by Leonard Goldstein.

GOOD PROSPECTS FOR HUB CITY LACROSSE

KAMLOOPS — Outlook for a strong senior lacrosse club here this year is promising. The Kamloops Young Liberal Association has offered to sponsor the team. Fred Douglas of the New Westminster Adanacs already is on the line-up, and several of his associates and several of last year's Vernon Tigers are reported willing to play for the Klippers. Chief drawback at the moment is the question of the availability of the Memorial Centre Arena for pre-season practice games. If the Civic Arena is not available, the Klippers will probably be used for the warming up sessions.

Many Entries Received For Invitational 'Spiel

Desired number of entries for the first Kelowna Curling Club invitational bonspiel was all but reached late last week.

Officials announced some 47 entries had come in, 25 of them from outside Kelowna and district numbers: Kamloops 2, Armstrong 2, Salmon Arm 1, Vernon 7, Westbank 1, Peachland 2, Penticton 1, Oliver 1, Copper Mountain 2, Princeton 3, Grand Forks 1, Trail 2.

No definite word has been received on any entry from Vancouver and at this late date—the spiel is only a week away, April 11, 12 and 13—a Coast entry now appears unlikely.

Six sheets will be laid out lengthwise on the ice in Kelowna and District Memorial Arena. Members of the Vernon Curling Club have volunteered assistance in laying out the sheets for curling.

Billets for all outside curlers already have been arranged. "Everything points to a bang-up affair," said officials of the local curling rink.

HABS WIN 3-1 TO TIE SERIES.

Montreal Canadiens squared their best of seven (Stanley Cup semi-final) with Detroit Red Wings at 3-all with a 3-1 victory at Montreal Saturday night.

Gerry Plamondon notched two goals for the Habits; Maurice "Rocket" Richard got the other. Gordie Howe scored for Detroit. Final game for the right to meet Toronto Maple Leafs in the final will be in Detroit.

MIXED BOWLING LEAGUE SPEEDS UP SCHEDULE

Mixed Bowling League, Section A, will be using tonight and next Monday in addition to the regular Thursday session to speed up the schedule. Next Monday, April 11, will be the last session before Section A rollofs start on April 19. B Section will wind up doing this Thursday and start the rollofs on April 12. Winners of A and B will meet sometime between April 19 and April 23, the date set for the banquet. Those change of plans were approved at a meeting yesterday.

Commercial Bowling Loop Holds Annual Banquet

If the attendance and good fellowship and the interest shown in the meeting afterwards mean anything, then Thursday's third annual banquet of the Men's Commercial Bowling (fivepin) League was the best yet. It was the largest bowling banquet attended to date.

Close to 100 men sat down to a well-planned copious dinner in the Anglican Parish Hall, catered to by women of the parish, before the highlight of the occasion—the presentation of awards and prize money.

One, grabbed the greatest single portion of the dough—$38—but even the basement-dwelling Kelowna High School teachers came in for about 20 cents apiece.

Rico Guidi, during the past two years tagged as "Mr. Bowling," didn't do too badly either. Rico, who played with Yellowknife Volcanic Gold, now retains the Schell Trophy—awarded for ending the year with the highest average—permanently, having won it three years in a row and ever since it was put up.

Guidi Gets Most

Guidi also shared in the prize money to end up with the largest individual accumulation for the season.

In addition to holding on to the championship Builders Supply Trophy for the ensuing year, each of the five members on the Industrial Electric team was given a small trophy for permanent possession. The champs and their roll-off scores are: Jimmy Anderson (captain) 1254; Allan Anderson 1271; Roy Thompson 1147; Joe Giordano 1202 and Morado Rantucci 1048.

In winning the high average trophy the third time, Rico Guidi wound up the season with a mark of 242. In his league during the season, 54 of them were over 200, and four of these over 300.

Kelowna Motors Trophy, for the individual high three during the year to Bob Stephens of K. C. E. Shippers with his 348. High single of 358 by J. Lahm, Occidentals, earned him the Fumerton Trophy for a year's keeping.

The Bolodrome Trophy and the Scott Trophy, for the highest team three-game and single respectively were presented by President Merriam to Yellowknife Volcanic Gold Mines Ltd. (3367) and Safeways (1253).

During his president's remarks, Merriam advised serious consideration should be given to a suggestion to cut down next year's bowling to two nights owing to the increase in this past season by hockey, played on Tuesdays, one of the nights set aside for the commercial league.

Two Nights Next Year

A short time later a resolution carried limiting next season's team to 32 and using only two nights during the week but all eight alleys at the Bolodrome. Entry fee was unchanged from $6.

Hot and heavy discussions were touched off on matters relating to individual bowling fees, distribution of prize money, rolloff averages and the flight system, but in the end the status quo was pretty well maintained.

Merriam who served as secretary-treasurer the year the league was formed, vice-president during the second year and president last season, turned over the reins to last year's vice-president, Joe Neissner. By right of succession, Joe now is the new president.

Dennis Webster was elected vice-president to take over the chair next year. Election of secretary-treasurer and secretaries for the two nights probably will be named at the late summer meeting set for August 15. Deadline for team entries will be September 1, the banquet meeting decided.

League Solvent

Secretary - treasurer during the past year was Jack Ritch. Sectional secretaries were: John Brucher (Monday); Larry Woud (Tuesday) and Adam Street (Friday). "We're solvent," said Ritch as he announced the league ended the season with a balance of $27.07. Receipts during the year were $1,015.25 with and expenditure of $988.18. As the meeting closed, some criticism was voiced by bowlers on the condition of the alleys at the Bolodrome. The new president was asked to take up resurfacing of the alleys with the management.

DYNAMOS LOSE INTER B TITLE TO PENTICTON

Southerners Overcome Eight-Point Lead for Interior Crown

Kelowna Industrial Electric Dynamos, final hopes for a local Inter B Basketball Association championship, faltered on the last lap to lose 70-68 on the two-game total-point series to the Penticton Intermediate B squad.

Dynamos, with a 38-30 victory here in Scout Hall, Friday night, appeared to have a better than 50-50 chance to come through with the city's first cage title. But on their home floor the Penticton lads were just a little too much for the Orchard City crew Saturday night and won out 40-30 to take the Interior bauble by a scant two points.

KELOWNA BRUINS IN FIRST DRILL; PROSPECTS GOOD

Deals Pending For Bringing in Some Outside Players

First physical workout of the Kelowna Bruins, the local senior B entry in the Interior Lacrosse Association, found 18 prospects on hand at the Scout Hall, Thursday night.

Herb Capozzi called the tunes as the hopefuls limbered up and knocked the kinks out of their winter legs. Nearly all of last year's Bruins were around and some of the juniors last year showed up for a crack at the top class.

Kelowna Lacrosse Club officials estimated prospects were good for a first-class team this year to compete in the ILA set-up for the Rowcliffe and Joe Wyse cups. Negotiations are under way between the club and some reputed top-notch players elsewhere in the province.

Those at the Thursday night drill were: Don Fleming, Alec McFarlane, Reg Martin, Ernie and Louis Rampone, Larry Reid, Jack Mearns, Verne Ardiel, Mike Stewart, Ray Giordano, Neville Thomson, Ron Gee, John Sugars, Ron Holland, Phil Weddell, Jack Weddell and a newcomer to the city, G. M. Rankin.

Practices at the box in The City Park are due to start any day now and another executive meeting this week may bring confirmation on outside player deals.

MANY SEEKING TRYOUT WITH CAPILANOS

Vancouver Capilanos Take Over King's Park at Penticton

Doings at the Vancouver Capilanos' spring training school at Penticton have monopolized the sports limelight at the South Okanagan city since the Caps took over King's Park last week.

Press reports appearing in Coast papers laud the Penticton set-up as ideal and hospitality as tops. This is said to be the first time that a Western International League team has spring-trained in Canada.

Scores of Valley hopefuls have been around the ball park seeking a tryout with the Caps. Only man from Kelowna so far who went to Penticton for the express purpose of sharpening up his baseball talent was Henry Tostenson, first baseman for the past few years with the Kelowna Red Sox.

Hank reported there were so many flocking around the camp he and several others were unable to get anywhere. Hank returned to Kelowna the same day.

Tostenson may see action in Penticton this week. He plans taking part in an exhibition game between the Caps and an all-star team from the Okanagan Valley (international) league.

SHORTHAND WRITERS SCARCE
MELBOURNE, Australia. (CP)—A scarcity of shorthand writers is one of the main factors causing congestion in the courts here. "We're a dying race, and there's no substitute for shorthand in court work," said one of the official reporters.

Australia has been isolated longer than any other great land mass.

DOUBLE RING CEREMONY OF WIDE INTEREST

A pretty wedding of interest both in Kelowna and Pittsburgh, was solemnized at First United Church here on Saturday, when Gladys Ruth, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Carruthers of this city, became the bride of Lee Jess Schreibeis, elder son of Mr. and Mrs. Lee J. Schreibeis, of Pittsburgh, Pa. Rev. D. M. Perley officiated at the high noon double ring ceremony.

The bride, who entered the church on the arm of her father, was unattended. She wore a long gown of white duchess satin, featuring a fitted bodice, and an off the shoulder neckline with a silk marquisette veil. She wore long tulle-point sleeves, and her full skirt had a bustle effect. Her long length tulle veil was caught with a halo of orange blossoms, and she carried a shower bouquet of pink carnations.

Miss Ruth Stratton and Mr. Alex Cresswell acted as witnesses. Following the ceremony a reception was held at the Beach Cafe, where the table was prettily decorated, with candles and spring flowers flanking the wedding cake. The bride's mother chose a two piece checked dress with blue accessories, and the groom's mother chose a gown of two tone grey with navy accessories. Both wore pink carnations on corsage.

A toast to the bride was proposed by Rev. D. M. Perley, and ably responded to by the groom.

Telegrams of congratulation were read from friends in Pittsburgh and in London, England.

For a honeymoon to Vancouver, the bride chose a coral gabardine suit with brown accessories and white carnations on corsage.

On their return from Vancouver, the couple will motor to their new home in Battle Creek, Michigan, where the groom is employed in Public Health.

The bride is a graduate of the University of Manitoba and of the Royal Victoria Hospital School of Nursing in Montreal, and prior to her marriage was employed in public health department at Winnipeg, and Vernon.

The groom is a graduate in engineering of the University of Pittsburgh, and received his master's degree in Public Health at the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor.

15-Year-Old Violin Player Wins High Praise in Finals Of Valley Talent Concert

"An excellent rendition by a very talented violinist," was the praise accorded the winning performance in the Okanagan finals of the B.C. Teachers' Talent Quest, held in the Vernon High School library last week. The "very talented musician" was 15-year-old Bill Hendry, of Penticton. The artist, who has studied for 10 years, played a violin arrangement by Jascha Heifetz, of Godowsky's beautiful "Alt Wein."

Merle Miller, recently winner of the Kelowna talent show, was a close runner-up to the winner, and made much favorable comment from the adjudicators.

The Penticton youth had been preceded by five other regional winners, and the adjudicators had a difficult time deciding upon a winner.

G. E. Falconer, principal of the Vernon High School, acted as master of ceremonies and gave a call to the artists, and a musical number thanked the adjudicators, Mrs. Craig Fisher, of Penticton, Miss Dagmar Herry, and Harold Johnson, of Vernon.

The concert opened with two choral selections by the Vernon School Junior Choir, followed by a brilliant piano duet by two young pianists, Don Lemski and Peter Bulman.

The first contestant in the Search for Talent, was Karen Abbott, of Revelstoke, who, accompanied by her mother, sang the ever-popular "When I Was a Young Man." Her lovely mezzo-soprano voice delighted the audience and she put much feeling and spirit into the well known Irish air.

GYROS HOST TO MELVILLE HOCKEY TEAM

Kelowna Gyro Club was host to the Melville Intermediate "A" hockey team at the fortnightly dinner meeting held in the Royal Anne hotel Tuesday.

The team members were introduced to the club by Wally Holstrand. President Len Leathley congratulated them on their splendid brand of hockey displayed against the Edmonton Mercers, and, on behalf of the Gyro Club, welcomed the visitors to Kelowna.

Guest speaker of the evening was Rev. Westie, of Okanagan Mission. Mr. Westie was born in British Honduras, and lived there until 10 years of age, after which he went to England to study for the ministry where he was ordained as a minister of the Anglican church at Durham.

Speaking of life in British Honduras, Mr. Westie said that it was probably one of the least known countries of the world today. It was on no regular steamship route and boats called there very rarely.

No Roads

Up to 12 years ago, there were no roads to speak of, and all communication was by canoe or boat on the river, lakes and sea travel. Lately, the British government had made an effort to connect the principal villages by roads, but airplanes are beginning to open up the interior.

The population of British Honduras is ninety-five percent black, but they have no racial problems and many of the important administrative positions are held by blacks.

Committees for the annual Gyro Empire Day celebration were appointed, and prospects for a bigger and better May 24th is assured.

European, Canadian Construction Techniques Combined to Form New Method of Building Low-Cost Homes

EUROPEAN and Canadian building techniques are combined to form a new method of pre-cut low-cost housing by the Pan-Abode Co., Ltd., which this week announces that D. M. Hockin, of Interior Agencies, 226 Bernard Avenue, has been named Okanagan representative. A model of the new type of home is now on display at Interior Agencies, and literature is also available.

The company describes its product as a woodland type home. It offers to build cabins, summer homes, bathhouses, garages, motels and permanent dwellings at $3.25 a square foot. This cost can be cut more than ten per cent by doing your own construction.

A one-bedroom cabin, 20 by 22 feet, costs $1,500, or $1,250 if erected by the owner. A three-bedroom bungalow roughly 35 by 24 feet costs $2,700. This is without electric wiring, plumbing or heating plant.

No Nails

The basic construction utilizes 3 by 6-inch or 4 by 7-inch cedar planks, tongued and grooved top and bottom, with hidden interlocking dovetail joints at the corners. No nails or other fastenings are used in erecting walls and partitions except to secure timbers to the floor, and to fasten the roof of 2-inch tongued and grooved cedar boards to fir rafters.

Cost includes a hexagon composition roofing. The house may be set on a cement slab or a basement. Interior finishes can be added, or the natural wood left inside and out. The solid wall has good insulating qualities. Aage Jensen, head of the Vancouver firm, was born in Denmark. He came to Edmonton in 1928 and went into the building trade. In 1939 he decided to revisit Denmark, and was unable to return to Canada until the end of World War II.

Tested Abroad

Mr. Jensen devised his building method there and put into practice, setting up a factory employing 30 men, and building 300 dwellings. Then came the Nazi invasion. The Germans recognized efficiency when they saw it, and ordered Mr. Jensen to build barracks for enemy soldiers. He refused, and taking the only course left open, went underground. He became an expert at sabotaging buildings, factories, railways and other targets during the five long years of the Nazi occupation.

Pre-Cut

With the war finally over, Mr. Jensen found it impossible to obtain wood for building houses in Denmark. Last year he moved to Vancouver and set up his new factory.

All the wood used in a Pan-Abode structure is cut in the factory, then shipped in bundles tagged to correspond with a simple floor plan sketch. He can build a house in from two to seven days.

PLANT SHOWS FIRST SHOOT ASH WEDNESDAY

FORT WILLIAM, Ont. — (CP) — "Old Faithful" has done it again. A little plant which consistently has shown its first shoots on Ash Wednesday for many years, came through again this year, sporting two tiny green leaves that ultimately will grow up to bear small purple flowers.

The plant is owned by Hubert Limbrick of Fort William. He obtained it about five years ago. Dormant through the winter months, it has through those years shown its first signs of life on Ash Wednesday, the first day of Lent.

Ash Wednesday this year fell on a date considerably later than in 1948, and for several weeks Mr. Limbrick's family watched the plant to see if it would remain true to the tradition surrounding it.

Sure enough, the first signs of growth appeared "right on time." Mr. Limbrick said he knew the plant as "Old Faithful." He did not know its species, but it is the only one of its kind he has encountered. There might be others in Fort William or the surrounding district.

BATTLE FOR SURVIVAL

Many benefits have resulted from the vastly increased population... but expansion of rural and urban communities has also created difficult problems. Nowhere have these problems become more acute than in the realm of wild life. Today, our wild life is fighting a grim and losing battle for mere survival—Vernon (B.C.) News.

Gov't Confirms Policy On Irrigation Matters

RUTLAND—Association of B.C. Irrigation Districts, this week received a letter from Hon. E. T. Kenney, minister of lands, confirming a definite policy in regard to irrigation as a result of the Clement report.

"After years of battling, we have at last got what we set out after," declared A. W. Gray, president of the association. Mr. Gray, accompanied by T. S. Hughes, secretary-manager, Black Mountain Irrigation District, last week conferred with government officials on irrigation matters.

The delegation also cleared up technical difficulties arising out of the Clement Report on irrigation. "For the first time we have the settlement in 'black and white'," Mr. Gray said.

Mr. Gray attended a meeting of the Western Canada Reclamation Association held in Medicine Hat, Alberta, last Saturday. The other B.C. representative was Guy Constable, of Creston, head of the Kootenay River Drainage and Diking Association.

The meeting was arranged for a two day convention to be held in Lethbridge early in June and appointed committees to handle the affairs. Those attending the party will be given an opportunity to view the $15,000,000 St. Mary's River project and other P.F.R.A. works in the area.

Directors plan to send a delegation to Ottawa later in the year to press for greater expenditures on reclamation work in the western provinces. A report was received that the South Saskatchewan River development project was to receive a vote of over $7,000,000 during the present session at Ottawa.

WHITE ANIMALS PREFERRED ON NORFOLK FARM

BAWDESWELL, Norfolk, England (CP) — Nearly everything's white down on Gurney's farm.

There are white poll cattle, 40-year-old Percheron horses, a white donkey, white turkeys, white geese and white mice.

The 750-acre farm is owned by Lt.-Col. Quintin Gurney, squire of Bawdeswell Hall. He and his wife have lived there 37 years.

As a young man Gurney bred white cattle. His wife, before they married, kept nearly 20 white Egyptian donkeys and used to drive a team of them round the countryside.

"It seemed natural, in view of our interests, to develop an all-white farm together," said Mrs. Gurney.

1 EDMONTON TAKES

started off at a terrific clip and for awhile the 2,000 fans envisaged a sixth and possibly a seventh game in the series.

Outshooting the Mercurys 17-8 in the first period, the Saskatchewan-Manitoba champions grabbed a 2-0 lead and added two more counters early in the second but from then on the Albertans took over.

Better conditioning paid off in the second and third periods as the Edmonton boys surged from behind. Edmonton all but went out in front in the middle stanza by rapping in four quick goals but from then on the Millionaires in front 5-4 at the end of the session.

Grosse the Standout
Grosse, 18-year-old Melville junior, was a standout, probably the best attacker on the ice Saturday night. Combining speed and stick handling wizardry, the youngster was a thorn in Edmonton's side every time he moved up well as from the two goals to top all point-getters for the night.

Mercurys took over the lead for the first time early in the third and never looked back. Four goals in a row they zipped past Anweiler and later countered again to wipe out Melville's final scoring effort.

Fighting to the last whistle, the Millionaires outshot the Mercurys 46-39 but the stellar netminding of Jack Manson in the Edmonton cage made the difference. Anweiler made many brilliant saves, but his glances at getting back on his feet partially accounted for some of the Edmonton scoring.

Defensively, the Millionaires were no match for the Mercurys. Shots handled by Anweiler were of a much more dangerous variety than those fired the way of Manson.

For the first time in the series, tempers almost reached the breaking point. But referees Cam Smith of Edmonton and Mike Wellock of Rossland clamped down with six penalties in the first, and three more in the second to keep the embers from igniting. Five of the nine minors went to Edmonton, two of them to the pint-sized defenceman and badman of the series, Jim Kilburn.

Easy Win
At Vernon Friday night, the Mercurys had a fairly easy time of it in handing the Millionaires their second 7-2 setback in a row. Edmonton won by the same score here Wednesday.

With "first" pivot Harry Allen firing home four tallies, the Albertans were never headed. Norman "Nipper" Knippleberg garnered both of Melville's goals.

FROZEN FLURRIES HARRY ALLEN and DON GAUF paced the winners with three points apiece. Edmonton lines were so well-balanced it was difficult to pick out one that shone better than the others.

Line of IRVINE GROSSE - JOCK GRAY - TOM GAFFNEY held most of the spark for the MILLIONAIRES. JOHNNY KOTZMA and IAN EDWARDS did some spelling off for the tired defence duo of HOWARD AMUNDRUD and DON ABEL. Kotzma and Abel both lost some time out before they recovered from heavy knocks during the game. Two years ago the EDMONTON JOURNAL cup went to the COLEMAN GRANDS of Alberta. Last year the cup stayed with NEW WEST-MINSTER CUBS.

EDMONTON—Manson; Wright; Davies; Allen; Dods; Daws; Stuart; Kilburn; Gauf; David; McCauley; Newsome; Darling; McCauley.

MELVILLE—Anweiler; D. Abel; Amundrud; G. Abel; Knippleberg; Edwards; sub; Kotzma; Winchuck; Ewanus; Grosse; Gaffney; Gray; Morgan.

First period—1, Melville, Amundrud, 16:44; 2, Melville, Grosse (Gaffney), 18:46. Penalties: D. Abel, Anweiler (served by Amundrud), Kilburn (2), Gaffney, Allen.

Second period—3, Melville, Gray (Grosse, Gaffney), 2:10; 4, Melville, Knippleberg (Grosse), 7:07; 5, Edmonton, Gauf (David), 7:58; 6, Edmonton, Allen (Daws), 10:27; 7, Edmonton, Gauf, 13:40; 8, Edmonton, Daws (Allen), 15:20; 9, Melville, Grosse (Gaffney), 16:57. Penalties: Daws, Edwards, Amundrud.

Third period—10, Edmonton, Daws (Allen, Davies), 0:18; 11, Edmonton, Gauf, 3:08; 12, Edmonton, Davies, 3:08; 13, Edmonton, Newsome, 10:58; 14, Melville, G. Abel (Knippleberg), 11:50; 15, Edmonton, Darling (Newsome), 16:37. Penalties, none.

SEVENTH DAY ADVENTISTS LAUNCH DRIVE

Campaign to Raise $1,675 in Kelowna and District Opens Today

ASSIST NEEDY

Funds Will Help Support Humanitarian Work in Various Parts of World

Seventh-day Adventists have launched a drive for funds to carry on their world-wide humanitarian work, it was announced today by Rev. A. G. Strelfing, pastor of the local Seventh-day Adventist Church.

This will mark the 41st consecutive year that Adventists have conducted a house-to-house solicitation campaign for contributions to aid medical, educational and missionary projects in all parts of the world.

Funds from the drive, known as Ingathering, will help support a system of 167 medical institutions and 200 colleges and secondary schools, and other projects being carried out by missionary doctors, nurses, teachers and ministers located in 226 countries, the pastor said.

Many of the medical and educational institutions are located in areas otherwise beyond the reach of civilization, he said. "Among the scores of projects to be carried out are equipping of the surgery department of a sanitarium-hospital in Rio de Janeiro; supplying of medicines to be dispensed by a mission motor launch fleet to natives living along the Amazon River; and enlargement of an African leper colony."

The Ingathering goal for the local church has been set at $255. The over-all goal for the drive is three million dollars.

Policy of the Seventh-day Adventist Church has always been to assist the needy to the best of their ability both at home and abroad.

E. H. OSWELL HEADS FIGURE SKATING CLUB

Vice-President, Treasurer and Secretary Re-elected at Annual Meeting

ACTIVE YEAR

Retiring President Hopes Professional Instructor May Be Obtained

E. H. Oswell was elected president of the Kelowna Figure Skating Club at the annual meeting Monday night, succeeding Wilf Rueger, while Mrs. E. McKay was re-elected vice-president; Mrs. N. Van der Velt, treasurer, and Miss Gwen Armstrong, secretary.

Other directors are Mr. Rueger, W. H. McDougall, Mrs. J. H. Pantan, and Mrs. Alwyn Weddell. Committees to handle the various activities of the club will be appointed by the president at the beginning of the next skating season.

The meeting spent considerable time carefully going through and finally adopting a proposed constitution and by-laws, based on those of the Seattle Figure Skating Club.

The retiring president, Mr. Rueger, paid tribute to members of the executive and committees who had helped to make the first season's skating a great success, and he felt sure that the new board of directors would make every effort to obtain the services of a full-time professional instructor. "Only then would the younger members be able to get sufficient polish to enable them to take part in exhibitions and carnivals," he said.

The membership during the past season was about 110 and indications are that this may be increased considerably next season. The times allotted for skating sessions were not always convenient for adult members and members hope that next year the commission will be able to make available at least one evening session for the club.
